LOCAL AUTHOR RELEASES A BEAUTIFUL VICTORIAN-ERA NOVEL

ABOUT THE BOOK - A beautiful love story between the Princess Royal Victoria and Fritz Wilhelm, Frederick III of Prussia. A lonely young man attends the first World's Fair - the Great Exhibition of 1851 - and meets a family who changes his life forever. Follow the young Prince Fritz - later Friedrich III - of Prussia and his wife, Queen Victoria's eldest daughter, Vicky, (parents of Kaiser Wilhelm II) through their courtship and the joys and struggles of their first four years of marriage.

Fritz and Vicky dream of a peaceful united Germany, but Fritz's uncle Karl has his own dreams of power..

Discover often hinted at but unrevealed secrets of the Prussian Royal court...

ADVANCE PRAISE - “For anyone who loves the Victorian era, for stories of love and intrigue in the royal courts of Britain and Germany, then this is the book to read. Full of romance... and secrets, some unknown to history.” - The Historical Fiction Company

ABOUT THE AUTHOR - Luv Lubker has researched Queen Victoria’s family for over 7 years, and the Victorian Era for 10, as she read about Charlotte Bronte and the literary world before the Royals. She has always more or less been a researcher, but her focus as a child was animals and biology.

After reading about the many different branches of Queen Victoria’s family and their connections, she always came back to Roger Fulford’s books of Queen Victoria’s letters with her eldest daughter, Victoria, Princess Royal, or Vicky, who later married the future Emperor Friedrich III, Fritz, and became the mother of Kaiser Wilhelm II.

She taught herself German and is working to translate “Fritz”’s diary into English. Luv lives in Texas and enjoys spending time with her family, making and eating delicious raw food, riding her bike (which she has only been able to ride for a year even though she has been able to ride a unicycle since she was 7), reading, and researching.

Luv Lubker is available for interviews and/or book signings.
